The Sixth Purdue Chinese Speech and Performance Contest

□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□□

Confucius Institute at Purdue University (CIP) and School of Languages and Cultures (SLC)

□□□□□□□□□□□/□□□□□□□□□□□□□

Confucius Institute at Purdue University and Chinese Language Program of SLC are proud to sponsor the sixth Chinese Speech and Performance Contest at Purdue University in Spring 2013. Students from all Chinese language classes are encouraged to participate in the contest. The contest intends to promote the learning of Chinese language and culture at Purdue University

Time: April 6, 2013, 1:00p.m - 3:30p.m/Location: Stanley Coulter Hall, Room 239, Purdue University

For registrations, please contact Ping Qiu at pqiu@purdue.edu

---

Confucius Institute to co-sponsor the Sixth Sino-American Comparative Literature Symposium, May 2013. For registration and symposium information, please click www.conf.purdue.edu/literature

---

Study Abroad in China courses available through the Confucius Institute, May 2013 or language programs for a semester/year at Shanghai Jiao Tong University with Confucius Institute scholarships. For applications and scholarship opportunities, please contact Professor Wei Hong at hongwei@purdue.edu.

2012 US Directors Media Training Workshop

Purdue CI is pleased to host the 2012 US Directors Media Training Workshop (Announcement) on November 9 and 10 at Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN. Co-sponsored by the Brian Lamb School of Communication at Purdue, we will discuss effective ways working with the media and how traditional and new social media covers China and in particular, the Confucius Institute, and the participants will be given opportunities to be interviewed under spotlight by Purdue News Services. If interested, please click here to register and send your registration to Betty Lewis by September 14, 2012. We look forward to seeing you at Purdue!